Hungry would you like to have a fresh, hot meal from home ? most managers dont have that choice It's either a sandwich a pizza or a trip to a restaurant, unless you live in mumbai, that is where a small army of dabbawalas' pick up 300,000 lunches from homes and delivers them to students, managers, and workers every working day at their desks, 12-30 p.m. on the dot served hot.
And now you can even order over the internet.
The mumbai Dabbawala Association is a stram lined organization with 5000 semiliterate members providing a quality door-to-door service to a large and loyal customer base, what should we learn from this unique, simple and highly efficient 120 year old logistics system ?
How has it managed to survive through these tumultuous years ? | 10 |
